Ed Brinkman
Scout/Player/Coach
September 30, 2008

Ed Brinkman, a member of the White Sox coaching and scouting staff from 1983-2000, passed away on September 30, 2008 in his hometown of Cincinnati, Ohio at the age of 66.

Known for his congenial and fun-loving manner, Brinkman was hired by the White Sox in 1983. He worked as the infield coach until 1988, when he became a special assignment scout under General Manager Ron Schueler until his retirement in 2000. Brinkman was part of three White Sox division-winning teams: 1983, 1993 and 2000.

The quintessential "good-field, no-hit" shortstop, Brinkman played for the Washington Senators, Detroit Tigers, St. Louis Cardinals, Texas Rangers and New York Yankees from 1961-75.

Primarily a shortstop, Brinkman won the Gold Glove in 1972, the same season he finished in the Top 10 for Most Valuable Player, and was named to the American League All-Star Team in 1973.

Jerome Holtzman
Baseball Writer
July 21, 2008

Jerome Holtzman, first official historian of Major League Baseball and an icon among baseball writers, passed away on July 21, 2008. Holtzman was 82.

Known as "The Dean" of American baseball writers, he was the baseball columnist and national baseball writer for the Chicago Tribune from 1981-99 and was named the Official Historian for Major League Baseball in 1999.

"Jerome truly left his mark on the game he loved and followed passionately for decades," said Jerry Reinsdorf, chairman of the Chicago White Sox. "Perhaps no one other person has done as much to promote the game of baseball to millions."

Holtzman covered Major League Baseball from 1957-99, traveling with the Cubs and Sox for 28 years. Holtzman created the formula for "saves" in 1959, and it was adopted as an official statistic in 1969.

In 1989, the Baseball Hall of Fame presented Holtzman with the J.G. Taylor Spink Award.

Andy Lock
Cameraman
August 20, 2008

Andy Lock, a camera technician for the organization since 1990, passed away on August 20, 2008 at the age of 52.

Affectionately known around the ballpark as "AndyCam", Lock worked 1,284 White Sox home games and was a 10-time Employee of the Homestand. He also worked for the Bears, Blackhawks and Bulls, shooting 180 professional and collegiate sports events each year.

"A lot of people only remember people because they play or the fans see him produce, but I think we lost one of the best guys in the White Sox organization," Ozzie Guillen said. "To me, he was the hardest-working man in the White Sox organization — and maybe in Chicago.

"He was part of the team, always talking to the players and working with the players," Guillen said. "The guy is gonna be missed. He will always be remembered here, and we lost a great man."

OFFICERS

JERRY REINSDORF
Chairman

During his 28-year tenure as chairman of the Chicago White Sox, Jerry Reinsdorf's two professional sports teams – the White Sox and Chicago Bulls of the NBA – have delivered seven World Championship titles to the city of Chicago and its sports fans.

Fulfilling a dream that began as a young baseball fan growing up in Brooklyn, N.Y. during the 1930s and 1940s, Reinsdorf accepted the Commissioner's Trophy from Bud Selig on October 26, 2005, after the Chicago White Sox swept their way to the team's first World Series championship since 1917.

The 2005 White Sox joined the 1927 New York Yankees as only the second team in Major League Baseball history to lead its division wire-to-wire and sweep the World Series. The 2005 Sox, managed by Ozzie Guillen, won 99 games to claim the American League Central division title and captured an amazing 11 of 12 postseason contests in winning the franchise's third World Series title (1906, 1917 and 2005).

The championship was the first by a Chicago baseball team in 88 years and was celebrated by a ticker-tape parade, attended by nearly 2 million Chicagoans that ran from U.S. Cellular Field through many of the city's neighborhoods and finished in downtown Chicago. At the rally, first baseman Paul Konerko presented Reinsdorf with the ball from the final out of Game 4 of the World Series.

The 2008 White Sox went 89-74 to capture the American Central Division title in a one-game playoff, joining the 1983, 1993, 2000 and 2005 Sox teams in winning division titles during Reinsdorf's tenure.

Reinsdorf begins his 29th season as chairman of the White Sox in 2009, the second-longest ownership tenure in franchise history behind club founder Charles Comiskey (1901-31). The Sox have gone 2,282-2,128 (.517) during his 28-year tenure. After drawing a franchise-record 2.95 million fans in 2006 and a third-best 2.68 in 2007, 19 of the club's top 20 single-season attendance totals have come during Reinsdorf's ownership of the franchise.

Since heading the limited partnership that purchased the White Sox in January 1981, Reinsdorf has been involved in Major League Baseball initiatives at an industry-wide level. Currently he is a member of Major League Baseball's Executive Council and serves on the Boards of Major League Baseball Advance Media, Major League Baseball Network and the Equal Opportunity Committee. Over the years he has served on many other committees including the Ownership Committee, the Player Relations Committee, Labor Policy, Relocation, Legislative and Long-Range Labor Planning Committees. He was instrumental in the formation of the Diverse Business Partners (DBP) Program in 1998. Since then Major League Baseball and its clubs have purchased hundreds of millions of dollars in goods and services from minority and women-owned businesses, and the White Sox annually rank among baseball's leaders in the DBP program. In 2008, his long history of donating time to Major League Baseball led to Reinsdorf being asked to serve on the Board of The Baseball Hall of Fame.

In July 2008, the White Sox hosted the very first "Double Duty Classic," a high school baseball All-Star Game featuring many of the nation's top inner-city baseball players. The Classic, named for Negro League great Ted "Double Duty" Radcliffe, celebrates the community's pride in the Negro League East-West All-Star Games, held annually at Comiskey Park in Chicago from the 1930s until the 1960s, while a symposium before the game teaches the young players about the game's history and importance.

During his career in professional sports, Reinsdorf has been responsible for the construction of two new sports facilities in Chicago, Comiskey Park (1991), now U.S. Cellular Field, and the United Center (1994). This spring, the White Sox and Los Angeles Dodgers opened a state-of-the-art spring training complex, named Camelback Ranch — Glendale, in Phoenix, Ariz. Over the past nine offseasons (2000-2008), Reinsdorf, the White Sox and the Illinois Sports Facilities Authority have undertaken dramatic offseason renovations to U.S. Cellular Field with the goal of improving the ballpark experience for White Sox fans.

Reinsdorf expanded his involvement in professional sports in March 1985 by purchasing controlling interest in the Chicago Bulls. During his tenure as chairman of the Bulls, the team has captured six World Championships (1991-93, '96-98). In addition to initiating the building of new Comiskey Park, Reinsdorf spearheaded construction of two major facilities for the Bulls. The United Center, home for the Bulls and Chicago Blackhawks, opened for the 1994-95 season, and the Bulls began using the Sheri L. Berto Center, their state-of-the-art training facility, in 1992.

Both of Reinsdorf's sports franchises have donated millions of dollars to causes in the Chicago community through a variety of efforts, including Chicago White Sox Charities and CharitaBulls. Chicago White Sox Charities donated more than $3.2 million to 30 Chicagoland organizations in 2008, moving the team's non-profit arm beyond $12.2 million in cumulative giving since its inception. Reinsdorf has played a critical role in the development of the west side area surrounding the United Center and was responsible for introducing an innovative reading program to the Chicago Public Schools. Through the new Chicago Bulls/Chicago White Sox Training Academy, which opened in 2001, and outreach efforts such as White Sox Training Centers and Chicago Bulls Basketball Schools, Reinsdorf's franchises promote sports to thousands of youth each year while instilling a love of the game in future fans. Reinsdorf's life-long support for charitable and community organizations has resulted in numerous awards and recognitions.

Born in Brooklyn, N.Y. on February 25, 1936, Reinsdorf graduated from George Washington University in Washington D.C. and earned a law degree from Northwestern University after moving to Chicago in 1957. Reinsdorf and his wife, Martyl, have four children and eight grandchildren.

EDDIE EINHORN
Vice Chairman

Eddie Einhorn begins his 19th year as vice chairman of the Chicago White Sox in 2009, continuing his long-term involvement with chairman Jerry Reinsdorf while also devoting time to his multiple sports and television interests. Prior to becoming vice chairman, Einhorn, who also serves on the board of directors of the Chicago Bulls, was the White Sox president and chief operating officer for 10 years.

During his 27-year career in baseball, Einhorn has been a member of Major League Baseball's Schedule Format Committee, the Professional Baseball Association Committee, Player Development Committee and was a member of the Television Committee from 1992-95. He was one of the key architects of The Baseball Network, Major League Baseball's joint broadcasting venture. Einhorn's successful Cooperstown Baseball World, a sports camp complex for kids in Oneonta, N.Y., is in its 10th summer in 2009.

An advocate of youth baseball, Einhorn has been responsible for developing the National Youth Baseball Championship, a tournament featuring the 10 and 12-year-old national champions of the eight major youth baseball organizations. In its second year in 2009, the National Youth Baseball Championship will take place in Memphis, Tenn., at the end of August and will be televised by the MLB Network.

Recognized as the architect of baseball's first billion dollar-plus television contract, Einhorn was instrumental in negotiating Major League Baseball's 1990 deal with CBS-TV and ESPN. In 1989, Einhorn was appointed television consultant to the United States Olympic Committee and was responsible for a 200-hour Olympic television package that debuted in 1990. He currently is the television consultant for the United States Figure Skating Association and the International Skating Union, the governing bodies for figure skating throughout the world. In that capacity, he helped engineer the first amateur/professional sanctioned skating competitions. In early 2007, Einhorn completed an agreement between Major League Baseball Advanced Media and the Ice Network to create and maintain the website icenetwork.com.

Prior to joining law school classmate Jerry Reinsdorf in 1981 to head the limited partnership that purchased the White Sox, Einhorn was the executive producer of the "CBS Sports Spectacular." At CBS, he was responsible for over 100 hours of programming per year and won an Emmy Award for "The Gossamer Albatross, Flight of Imagination," in 1980.

Einhorn was the founder and chairman of TVS Television Network, a leader of sports programming in the 1970s that celebrated its 40th anniversary in 2005. The TVS telecast of the Houston-UCLA game from the Astrodome in 1968 is credited for the growth in popularity of college basketball on television. This year marks the 40th anniversary of that historic game.

Einhorn has written a book, available in bookstores nationally, on the evolution of the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament. The book, entitled "How March Became Madness," traces Einhorn's early days of televising college basketball in the 1960s to the present through interviews with over 50 people responsible for the game's growth, including John Wooden, Elvin Hayes, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Digger Phelps and Dick Enberg.

Einhorn has received many awards and honors over the years, most notably being honored recently by his hometown of Paterson, N.J. with the Mayor's Award for civic contribution. He currently serves on the board of the Kidney and Urology Foundation, a project close to his heart.

Einhorn was born on January 3, 1936 in Paterson, N.J. and holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Pennsylvania. He is a graduate of the Northwestern University School of Law. Einhorn and his wife, Ann, have two children: Jennifer, who is manager of special events for Major League Baseball, and Jeff, who lives in Los Angeles, produced "Winning Ugly: Twenty Years Later," a retrospective DVD about the 1983 American League West Champion White Sox, and works in the entertainment industry.

HOWARD PIZER
Executive Vice President

In his role as the club's executive vice president, Howard Pizer has primary responsibility for the business and administrative operations of the Chicago White Sox as well as continuing his oversight of the club's legal matters and governmental relations. The longtime business associate of Jerry Reinsdorf joined the White Sox in 1981 to handle the club's transition from former owner Bill Veeck to the Reinsdorf-Einhorn group.

During his 28-year tenure with the White Sox, Pizer has supervised the franchise's hosting of two Major League All-Star Games (1983 and 2003), the team's five postseason appearances (1983, 1993, 2000, 2005 and 2008), and the 2005 World Series, the first won by a Chicago baseball team in 88 years.

Prior to its opening on April 18, 1991, Pizer's primary focus was on the necessary steps to create new Comiskey Park, now U.S. Cellular Field. He utilized this experience in connection with the development and operation of the United Center, the state-of-the-art facility which opened for the 1994-95 Chicago Bulls and Chicago Blackhawks season. Pizer also played a key role in negotiating the White Sox partnership with U.S. Cellular and remains the team's chief liaison with the Illinois Sports Facilities Authority (ISFA), the state agency that serves as owner of U.S. Cellular Field.

Pizer is responsible for the overall relationship between Illinois Sportservice, the White Sox concessionaire, and Levy Restaurants in conjunction with the operation of The Stadium Club and Diamond Suites. Beginning in 1999, Pizer has spearheaded the club's ongoing efforts to constantly improve the ballpark experience for fans attending games at U.S. Cellular Field.

Pizer lends his organizational ability to the board of directors of Chicago Baseball Cancer Charities; Special Children's Charities, the fundraising arm of Chicago Special Olympics; and Near West Side Development Corp., which is working to spur affordable housing and economic development on Chicago's near west side. The Chicago native also has participated in the club's support of community efforts to continue the on-going initiatives to develop the Wentworth Gardens and Bronzeville areas near U.S. Cellular Field. Pizer also serves as vice president and secretary for Chicago White Sox Charities.

KEN WILLIAMS
Senior Vice President/General Manager

The 2008 Chicago White Sox became the second team to capture an American League Central division title under the tenure of General Manager Ken Williams, the first being the 2005 White Sox, who went on to claim the third World Series championship in franchise history.

The White Sox have finished first or second in their division five times in the last seven seasons and have gone 683-614 (.527) with a World Series Championship, two division titles (2005 and 2008), three second-place finishes and two third-place finishes under Williams, whose winning percentage over eight seasons ranks as the best in club history for any general manager.

The 2008 White Sox went 89-74 (.546) to win the AL Central title by defeating the Twins in a tiebreaker on Tuesday, September 30. The 1-0 victory over Minnesota was the third of three straight must-win games against three different teams to end the regular season. The White Sox 17-game improvement from 2007 (72-90) is the franchise's best since 2000, and the Sox now own eight winning seasons in the decade, the most since also posting eight during the 1960s.

The 2006 White Sox posted a 90-72 record and third-place finish in the A.L. Central. The Sox won 90 or more games in back-to-back seasons in 2005-06 for just the fifth time in franchise history and the first time since 1963-65. The White Sox won 200 regular season and postseason games from 2005 to 2006, and the 189 combined regular-season wins from 2005-06 are the highest total in back-to-back campaigns by a Sox team since winning 193 in 1964-65.

Williams celebrated his fifth season as general manager in 2005 by winning the third World Series title in the franchise's history and the club's first since 1917. The 2005 World Champion White Sox, built around pitching, defense and timely power, became just the second team in major-league history to lead its division wire-to-wire and sweep the World Series in four games. The other was the 1927 New York Yankees. The Sox were 11-1 in postseason play, winning their final eight games.

Williams hired former White Sox All-Star shortstop and teammate Ozzie Guillen as the club's 37th manager on November 3, 2003. Guillen, who played for the Sox from 1985-97, is the first Venezuelan to manage a major league baseball team and win a World Series title. Under Guillen and Williams, the White Sox major-league coaching staff features several members who also starred for the team as players, including Harold Baines, Joey Cora and Greg Walker. On September 11, 2007, Guillen's contract was extended through the 2012 season.

Two trades and two free-agent signings highlighted the White Sox 2008-2009 offseason. Williams acquired INF Wilson Betemit, RHP Jhonny Nunez and RHP Jeff Marquez from the Yankees on November 13 and then acquired C Tyler Flowers, INF Jonathan Gilmore, INF Brent Lillibridge and LHP Santos Rodriguez from Atlanta on December 4. Williams signed free agent Cuban 3B Dayan Viciedo to a four-year, $10-million contract on December 12, and the Sox agreed to terms with former American League Cy Young Award winner RHP Bartolo Colon on January 15.

Six current members of the White Sox roster have signed multiyear extensions after joining the club: LHP Mark Buehrle (through 2011), RHP Jose Contreras (2009), Jermaine Dye (2010, including a mutual option), 1B Paul Konerko (2010), C A.J. Pierzynski (2011) and LHP Matt Thornton (through 2011, including options).

Since becoming the franchise's 11th general manager on October 24, 2000, Williams annually has made aggressive moves impacting the major-league roster. Prior to the 2008 season, he acquired OF Carlos Quentin (from Arizona on December 3), signed Cuban free agent Alexei Ramirez (January 22) and signed free agent relievers Octavio Dotel (January 22) and Scott Linebrink (November 28). Williams acquired RHP Gavin Floyd (December 6) and LHP John Danks (December 23) in trades before the 2007 season, and in 2006, the general manager added LHP Matt Thornton (Seattle) and DH Jim Thome (Phillies) via trade.

Prior to the 2005 championship season, the White Sox signed five free agents – OF Jermaine Dye, RHP Dustin Hermanson, RHP Orlando Hernandez, Japanese INF Tadahito Iguchi and C A.J. Pierzynski – and each played a key role in helping the team to the World Series title. The Sox also acquired OF Scott Podsednik and RHP Luis Vizcaino in a December 13 trade with the Brewers. In 2004, Williams signed RHP Shingo Takatsu, Japan's all-time saves leader, who was the first Japanese player for the White Sox, while in 2003, the Sox signed free agent RHP Esteban Loaiza, who went on to win 21 games and started the 2003 All-Star Game at U.S. Cellular Field.

During his tenure, Williams has acquired 157 players in 59 trades involving the major-league roster, adding notables such as Roberto Alomar (2003-04), Orlando Cabrera (2008), Bartolo Colon (2003), Jose Contreras (2004-present), Carl Everett (2003-05), Freddy Garcia (2004-06), Ken Griffey Jr. (2008), Thome (2006-present), Javier Vazquez (2006-2008) and David Wells (2001). He claimed right-hander Bobby Jenks (2005-present) off waivers and signed Sandy Alomar Jr. (2001-04), Jose Canseco (2001), Tom Gordon (2003) and Kenny Lofton (2002) as free agents. In Williams' eight seasons as general manager, the Sox farm system has developed third basemen Joe Crede and Josh Fields and outfielders Brian Anderson, Jerry Owens and Aaron Rowand.

Williams is the first African-American general manager in Chicago sports history and the third in major-league history, following Bill Lucas (Atlanta, 1979) and Bob Watson (Houston, 1994-95/Yankees, 1996-97). From 2001-03, Williams and Jerry Manuel formed the first African-American general manager/manager tandem in major-league history. He was listed by Black Enterprise as one of the "Most Powerful Blacks in Sports" for 2005.

Williams served as the club's director of minor league operations from 1995-96 and was promoted to vice president of player development for four additional seasons (1997-2000). Under his direction, the White Sox were named 2000 Organization of the Year by Baseball America, USA Today and Howe SportsData.

TERRY SAVARISE
Senior Vice President, Stadium Operations

As senior vice president of stadium operations, Terry Savarise is directly responsible for all aspects of the operation of U.S. Cellular Field, including the over 2,000 employees who staff the ballpark on game days.

Savarise, who was promoted to senior vice president in 2004, was responsible for the planning and construction of the new ballpark, which opened in 1991. Has also has overseen the very popular renovation and remodeling efforts to the ballpark over the past nine offseasons.

Each of the renovations to U.S. Cellular Field has focused on improving the game experience for White Sox fans by creating a more intimate and updated ballpark atmosphere. Over the nine years of renovations under Savarise's supervision, the White Sox have moved seating closer to the field of play, added the popular Fan Deck in center field, changed the color scheme of the ballpark and in its most dramatic change, removed the top eight rows of the ballpark's upper deck and added a flat roof over the back rows of the upper deck. Many of the renovations phases were made possible by the naming rights partnership with U.S. Cellular. Savarise handled the layout and re-design of all aspects of the ballpark.

Among the specific makeover changes Savarise has overseen are construction of the new FUNdamentals Deck in left field and the Scout Seating Area behind home plate in 2005. In 2007, U.S. Cellular Field added the Home Plate Club behind home plate on the 200 Level, and the ballpark's seat color was converted to forest green. In 2008, the White Sox and Chicago White Sox Charities created the "Champions Plaza," a brick baseball diamond and granite and bronze sculpture located at the main entrance of the ballpark, and in 2009 ballpark enhancements feature renovation to the Gate 5 entrance ramps and a state-of-the-art out-of-town scoreboard in right field.

Entering his 28th season with the Sox, Savarise also serves as senior vice president of operations for the United Center, home of the Chicago Bulls and Chicago Blackhawks. BROOKS BOYER
Vice President, Chief Marketing Officer

Brooks Boyer enters his sixth season as vice president and chief marketing officer of the Chicago White Sox in 2009. The organization drew more than 2.5 million fans in 2008, an average of 30,872 per game and the sixth-highest total in franchise history. The 2008 season also marked the third consecutive season the organization drew more than 2.5 million fans, and the combined attendance total of 12.42 million for 2004-08 is the highest in franchise history for any five-year period.

The 2008 season featured 18 home sellouts for the White Sox, including the historic "blackout game" vs. Minnesota on 9/30. Boyer created the concept and was instrumental in the execution of the ballpark "blackout," issuing a call to all White Sox fans to dress in black for the one-game playoff. With less than 24 hours to promote and publicize, a passionate crowd of 40,354 — the largest regular-season crowd since 8/4/03 — responded to create one of the most electric ballpark atmospheres in franchise history.

The White Sox attracted 2,684,395 fans in 2007, the third-highest mark in franchise history behind only an all-time best 2,957,111 in 2006 and 2,934,154 in 1991. In August 2006, the White Sox capped a record-attendance season by topping all other Chicago sports teams in Scarborough Research's WAL (Watched, Attended, Listened) figures, with 57.3 percent of all Chicagoans taking in a Sox game in 2006. The team also established all-time highs for season ticket, group ticket and corporate partnership sales. The Sox, who set a franchise-record with nearly 21,500 season tickets sold in 2006, are looking to top 2 million in attendance for the fifth straight season in 2009, a franchise first.

After joining the White Sox in April 2004, Boyer made an immediate impact on the team's sponsorships, marketing, promotions, advertising and in-game entertainment. Boyer's goal is to create an exciting ballpark atmosphere that complements the action on the field by enhancing the ballpark experience for Sox fans of every age, with the philosophy of making fans not spectators, but participants. The team's "take the field" audio and video montage are well-received by Sox fans, as is the re-introduction of the "Go-Go White Sox" song from the 1950s. Beginning in 2007, weeknight games at U.S. Cellular Field started at 7:11 p.m., thanks to a unique new sponsorship with 7-Eleven.

Boyer, who worked for the Chicago Bulls for 10 seasons before joining the Sox, is responsible for the club's marketing, promotions, advertising, business development and broadcasting efforts, as well as overseeing ticket, sponsorship and premium seating sales. Boyer is one of four members of the board of directors (along with Terry Savarise of the White Sox) for Camelback Ranch – Glendale, the new spring training home of the White Sox and the Dodgers. The board oversees the year-round business operations for the brand-new facility.

He brings a focus on first-class customer service to White Sox season ticket holders, sponsors and fans. Boyer has increased the size of the White Sox sales staff and has strongly emphasized the team's season and group ticket sales and service efforts. He directs the club's advertising efforts, which included the popular "Grinder Rules" campaigns of 2005-06 and "Us vs. Them" and "Sox Pride" spots in 2004.

Boyer also is responsible for the club's relationships with its broadcast partners. WGN-TV, Comcast SportsNet Chicago and WCIU on the television side, the White Sox radio flagship station, The Score Sports Radio (WSCR, 670 AM), and its Spanish-language radio partner – Univision Radio's La Tremenda (WRTO, 1200 AM).

Boyer, who in 2008 was named one of Crain's Chicago Business "40 Under 40" and in 2007 was named one of Sports Business Journal's "40 Under 40," is a member of the board of Chicago White Sox Charities, the club's charitable initiative that annually provides support to various programs and charities throughout the Chicago area.

In his role with the Chicago Bulls, Boyer was responsible for overseeing Bulls and United Center sponsorships, advertising sales and sponsor services. He was senior director of corporate partnerships from 1998-2003 and was with the Bulls for the final three of their six NBA titles.

A 1994 graduate of Notre Dame where he was a member of the basketball team (1990-94) and a two-time captain, Boyer also is a graduate of the Kellstadt Graduate School of Business at DePaul and was recently inducted into the Lumen Christi High School Sports Hall of Fame (Jackson, Mich.). He and his wife, Julie, reside in Downers Grove with their five children.

SCOTT REIFERT
Vice President, Communications

As vice president of communications, Scott Reifert is responsible for all of the club's communications with White Sox fans. He oversees the club's strategic communications efforts, media services, mass communications functions, branding, public relations activities, community relations initiatives and the team's website, www.whitesox.com. Since 2005, Reifert has authored a blog, "Inside the White Sox" (available at www.mlblogs.com), that provides fans with a behind-the-scenes look at the team and its players.

At the 2008 Baseball Winter Meetings, Reifert received the prestigious Robert O. Fishel Award for public relations excellence. The award, started in 1981 and named for the popular long-time baseball executive, is presented to the "active, non-uniformed representative of Major League Baseball whose ethics, character, dedication, service, professionalism and humanitarianism best represent the standards propounded by Bob Fishel."

In addition to his communications responsibilities, Reifert serves as president of Chicago White Sox Charities. As president, Reifert heads the club's efforts to give back to the Chicago community through White Sox Charities and the club's community relations efforts. In 2008, Chicago White Sox Charities unveiled its newest fund-raising initiative, a brick baseball diamond and granite and bronze sculpture located outside the ballpark's main entrance that celebrates the franchise's 2005 World Series Championship season.

Chicago White Sox Charities donated more than $3.2 million to 30 Chicagoland organizations in 2008, moving the team's not-for-profit arm beyond $12.2 million in cumulative giving since its inception. Included in 2008's giving were $1 million donations to Children's Memorial Hospital for the development of the new Ann and Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago, and the second to Easter Seals of Metropolitan Chicago toward construction of the new Therapeutic School and Center for Autism Research. CWSC also donated $500,000 to After School Matters' Sports 37 sports apprentice program. In 2005, Chicago White Sox Charities worked with the Chicago Park District to build a $1 million, four-field complex in the Mt. Greenwood neighborhood on Chicago's southwest side.

In July 2008, the White Sox hosted the very first "Double Duty Classic," a high school baseball All-Star Game featuring many of the nation's top inner-city baseball players. The Classic, named for Negro League great Ted "Double Duty" Radcliffe, celebrated the community's pride in the Negro League East-West All-Star Games, played annually at Comiskey Park in Chicago from the 1930s until the 1960s. A symposium before the game – featuring Ken Williams, Harold Baines, Jermaine Dye, ESPN's Michael Smith and a panel of historians – taught the young players about the game's history and importance in our culture. This year's Classic, which highlights the team's commitment to youth baseball in Chicago, is scheduled for July 10.

Reifert also oversees the team's market research initiatives to gather feedback on the White Sox and fan perceptions. Reifert, in his 19th season with the club, is a member of the team's advertising committee and is involved in the commissioning of bronze sculptures of past Sox greats that stand on the main concourse in center field.

In 2006, White Sox fans voted A.J. Pierzynski to the All-Star Team as part of a "Punch A.J." campaign coordinated by the team. During the World Championship season in 2005, White Sox communications efforts included promoting Scott Podsednik's successful grass-roots campaign to be selected to the American League All-Star Team as Major League Baseball's "32nd Man," handling international and national media attention during the postseason and World Series.

Reifert, who joined the White Sox in 1991 as assistant director of public relations before being promoted to director of public relations in 1997, was named vice president of communications in April 2004.

Prior to joining the White Sox, Reifert worked at Wirz & Associates, a Connecticut-based sports marketing and public relations firm with a variety of baseball-related clients. A 1988 graduate of the University of Iowa, Reifert also has a master's degree in sport management from Western Illinois University. He is married to Amy Howley, head women's soccer coach at the University of Chicago. They reside in the Hyde Park neighborhood of Chicago with their three children.

DENNIS GILBERT
Special Assistant to Chairman Jerry Reinsdorf

Dennis Gilbert, a top agent in baseball before his early retirement in January 1999, joined the Chicago White Sox as special assistant to Chairman Jerry Reinsdorf on November 28, 2000.

Gilbert assists the White Sox in contract negotiations, as well as consulting on other baseball-related issues. Always active within the baseball community, Gilbert, along with Roland Hemond and scouts Dave Yoakum (White Sox) and Harry Minor (Mets), created the Professional Scouts Foundation in January 2003.

The foundation, which holds annual fundraising dinners featuring guests such as Willie Mays, Sandy Koufax, Tom Lasorda and other baseball notables, lends support to scouts who have provided longtime service to the game but may have fallen on financial hard times due to illness, retirement or the non-renewal of their contracts.

Prior to joining the White Sox, Gilbert was involved in building a top-flight baseball stadium at Southwest College in south central Los Angeles that serves as the home field for Major League Baseball's RBI program (Reviving Baseball in the Inner Cities). The ballpark, Dennis Gilbert Field, celebrated its Opening Day on January 20, 2002. He continues his successful insurance practice in Beverly Hills, Calif.

After building his insurance business, Gilbert began his career as an agent in 1980 when he represented Hall of Famer George Brett. Gilbert added clients Bret Saberhagen, Danny Tartabull and Jose Canseco and then formed the successful Beverly Hills Sports Council. His client list included Barry Bonds, Bobby Bonilla, Mike Piazza and Curt Schilling, among others.

Gilbert played minor league baseball for four years and also has scouted in the Los Angeles area. He is a longtime season-ticket holder for the Los Angeles Dodgers and Anaheim Angels. Gilbert and his wife, Cinthia Vereen, reside in Hidden Hills, Calif. The couple has three children: Ashlee, Shannon and Hailey.

Larry Monroe is in his 36th year with the White Sox as a player, scout, minor-league instructor, coach, special assistant to the general manager, club executive and major-league scout. In his current position as advisor to the baseball department, Monroe enhances the club's scouting efforts during the season, and his experience allows him to advise the baseball department on potential player moves.

ROGER BOSSARD
Head Groundskeeper

The man responsible for building and maintaining U.S Cellular Field's highly regarded playing field is head groundskeeper Roger Bossard, now in his 43rd season with the White Sox. Bossard was honored as the White Sox Executive of the Year at the 61st annual Pitch and Hit Club Awards dinner in January 2007.

Groundskeeping is a Bossard family tradition, with six members combining for more than 250 years of experience in the business. Roger's grandfather, Emil, served as head groundskeeper with the Cleveland Indians from 1932-68, while his father, Gene, was in charge with the White Sox from 1940-83. Roger Bossard joined the Sox in 1967 as an assistant to his father before taking over following Gene's retirement in 1983.

Bossard designed and built the playing fields for the Camelback Ranch-Glendale, the White Sox state-of-the-art spring training complex in Glendale, Ariz. that opened in the spring of 2009. During the 2007 offseason, he designed and built a new playing field at Wrigley Field, home of the Chicago Cubs, after performing the same task at the new Busch Stadium in St. Louis in 2005 and at Boston's Fenway Park and Washington's RFK Stadium in 2004. Among the highlights of Bossard's resume, he is a consultant for 14 Major League Baseball teams and four NFL teams.

In addition to U.S. Cellular Field, Bossard has designed and built major-league fields in Arizona, Boston, Detroit, Milwaukee, St. Louis (both old and new Busch Stadium), Seattle and Washington, as well as spring training complexes for Cincinnati, Montreal, the Yankees, St. Louis, Arizona and the White Sox.

In 1984-85, Bossard designed and built the first natural turf soccer fields in Saudi Arabia for the Royal Family, where he continues to serve as a consultant. Nineteen of 30 major-league teams use a patented drainage system that he developed specifically for the opening of U.S Cellular Field in 1991. As part of the ballpark's 2000 offseason renovation, he built new bullpens and also re-configured the outfield grass, irrigation and drainage systems.

Bossard and his wife, Geri Lynn, have two children: Brandon and Brittany. The family resides in Lemont.

Roland Hemond Award

In 2003, the Chicago White Sox created the Roland Hemond Award to honor those who better the lives of others through extraordinary personal sacrifice. The White Sox awarded the 2008 Roland Hemond Award to Anna Sherony of the Wounded Heroes Foundation. Sherony was chosen from among hundreds of candidates nominated for the award last summer by White Sox fans on whitesox.com. She is the co-founder of the Wounded Heroes Foundation, a Chicago-based, non-profit corporation providing needed support to the men and women of this nation who made life-altering sacrifices for the good of their country.

The first recipient of the award was Dr. Julian Lopez, who donated a kidney to White Sox vice chairman Eddie Einhorn in 2002 after having been his doctor and knowing of his struggles to receive a donated kidney. In 2004, the award went to Bill and Bonnie Cartwright, who took in a high-school age foster child, helped him succeed in school, sports and life and become the first member of his family to graduate from high school. The 2005 recipients were Sean Carey and Danny O'Hearn of Oak Lawn, two boys who spent their summers hosting a 'Lemon-aid' stand to raise money for patients at Advocate Hope Children's Hospital. And in 2006, White Sox season ticket holder Ryan Devlin of Tinley Park, a life-long fan who sold his World Series tickets to finance his own trip to New Orleans to provide supplies for hurricane relief was the recipient of the Roland Hemond Award.

"This award was created to celebrate Roland Hemond's lifetime commitment and selfless service to the community," said Jerry Reinsdorf, White Sox chairman. "He has dedicated himself for more than half a century to bettering the lives of those around him. He is a true inspiration. Each year, this award acknowledges others who have taken this same spirit to heart."

The Road To 500 Home Runs

Jim Thome hit his 500th career home run on September 16, 2007 vs. the Angels, a game-ending, two-run shot on a 3-2 pitch from Dustin Moseley in the ninth inning to give the White Sox a 9-7 win. Some facts on Thome's historic home run:

- Thome became the 23rd player in major-league history to reach the milestone, the 10th left-handed batter and the first to do so in game-ending fashion ... of the 16 eligible players with 500 home runs, 15 are in the Baseball Hall of Fame (Mark McGwire is the exception).
- Thome became the seventh active player to reach the milestone and was the third in 2007, joining Toronto's Frank Thomas (6/28 at Minnesota) and the Yankees Alex Rodriguez (8/4 vs. Kansas City) ... according to David Vincent of SABR, 2007 was the first season in history to feature three players reaching 500 home runs.

- To commemorate the milestone, Thome was presented with a specially designed "500" ring from White Sox chairman Jerry Reinsdorf in a ceremony prior to the Detroit game on 9/29 ... he also was presented with a video which included career highlights and congratulatory messages from family members, current and former teammates and coaches.
- Thome also made a trip to Cooperstown, N.Y., with his father, Chuck, in February 2008 to present the historic ball to the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum.
- He hit his first home run on 10/4/91 at New York, his 100th on 5/4/97 vs. Texas, his 200th on 4/15/00 vs. Texas, his 300th on 6/5/02 at Minnesota and his 400th on 6/14/04 vs. Cincinnati.
- Thome is Cleveland's all-time leader with 334 home runs ... he also has 96 with the Phillies and 77 with the White Sox ... he has homered off 338 different pitchers, vs. 29 teams and at 37 ballparks.

Civil Rights Game

Great American Ball Park in Cincinnati, Ohio will be the host site for the third annual Major League Baseball Civil Rights Game, when the Cincinnati Reds play the White Sox on June 20, 2009. It marks the first time that the Major League Baseball Civil Rights Game will be a regular-season game played at a major league ballpark. The Civil Rights Game, held in Memphis the last two years, pays tribute to one of our country's most significant eras of social change and honors Major League Baseball's involvement in the historic struggle through which legendary African-American players broke barriers and made important contributions to American society. In last year's contest, the White Sox lost a 3-2 decision to the Mets.

"Major League Baseball is committed to the significance and impact of this very important event," said Baseball Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig. "Now in its third year, Major League Baseball is excited to bring the Civil Rights Game to its new regular-season host City of Cincinnati. We hope that the community will embrace its importance and its message as we remember and honor the African-American pioneers of our game."

"It truly is an honor for the Chicago White Sox to once again participate in Major League Baseball's Civil Rights Game, this time as part of our regular-season schedule," said Jerry Reinsdorf, White Sox chairman. "Every member of our travel party, from Ken Williams to Ozzie Guillen, our coaches, players, staff and families, was touched by last year's experience in Memphis and our visit to the Civil Rights Museum. We all benefit from understanding the sacrifices made by Americans of all races as part of the Civil Rights movement in this country, a movement that continues in a variety of ways to this very day."

Camelback Ranch - Glendale

The Chicago White Sox and Los Angeles Dodgers announced on November 20, 2008 that the two-team, state-of-the-art Spring Training complex in Glendale, Ariz. will be named Camelback Ranch - Glendale. The first-rate baseball facilities include more than 118,000 square feet of Major and Minor League clubhouse space, 13 full baseball fields and three half-fields, while the site will feature picturesque walking trails, impeccably landscaped grounds and an orange grove. There will also be two ponds and a fully-stocked lake between the Dodgers and White Sox facilities.

The shared stadium, which will be the focal point of the complex, is the largest in the Cactus League with a capacity of 13,000 which includes 3,000 lawn seats, 12 luxury suites, a party deck and a unique center field rotunda entrance. Fans will enjoy dramatic mountain views from within the park that will create one of the most inviting Spring Training atmospheres in all of baseball. In addition to serving as the Spring Training home of White Sox and Dodgers, the 141-acre site will become the home for all Dodgers' minor league operations throughout the year, including the team's Arizona League entry and Fall Instructional League team. The White Sox also will use the facility as their home for the Fall Instructional League.

Mi Casa Es Su Casa

Due to the effects of Hurricane Ivan, U.S. Cellular Field became the site of the first two games of the Florida-Montreal series on September 13-14, 2004. The "host" Marlins won both games before crowds of 4,003 and 5,457. It marked the first time that a National League team hosted a regular-season game in an American League park since 1946 (Boston Braves at Fenway Park). All tickets were $15 general admission, with $5 of each ticket going toward the Florida Hurricane Relief Fund.

Tough Luck Loser

Mark Buehrle suffered a 2-0 loss on May 31, 2007 at Toronto despite allowing just two hits. Buehrle gave up solo home runs to Aaron Hill in the second inning and Frank Thomas in the eighth but otherwise retired every batter (24 of 26 total). According to the Elias Sports Bureau, the Blue Jays became the first team in major-league history to win a game without having a baserunner. Buehrle became the first major-league pitcher since Arizona's Randy Johnson in 2004 to throw a no-hitter and complete game with two hits or less in the same season and first White Sox pitcher to accomplish the feat since Joel Horlen in 1967.

How The Central Was Won

The Chicago White Sox went 89-74 in 2008 to capture their third American League Central division title (second in the last four seasons) and reach the postseason for the ninth time in franchise history. The Sox clinched the division crown with a 1-0 victory vs. Minnesota on September 30 in a one-game playoff at U.S. Cellular Field. Jim Thome hit a game-winning, 461-foot homer off Nick Blackburn in the seventh inning of the clincher, and John Danks held the Twins scoreless on two hits over 8.0 IP. The White Sox, who led the division for 148 days, became the first team in major-league history to win each of its last three games of a season, all against a different opponent. Starting pitchers Mark Buehrle (1 ER/7.0 IP), Gavin Floyd (1 ER/6.0 IP) and John Danks (8.0 scoreless IP), all working on three days rest, combined to allow two runs on 16 hits over 21.0 IP (0.86 ERA) as the Sox defeated Cleveland, Detroit and the Twins in succession to make the playoffs.

- The Sox drew over 2.5 million fans for the third consecutive season, and the combined attendance for 2006-08 of 8.14 million is the second-highest total in franchise history over a three-year period, trailing only the 8.20 million from 1991-93, the first three seasons in the new ballpark.

Protecting Their Turf

The White Sox went 7-0 on their homestand vs. Kansas City (3-0) and Minnesota (4-0) on June 3-9, 2008, just the fourth undefeated homestand of seven games or more in franchise history and first since September 5-11, 1983 (7-0 vs. Oakland and California). The Sox outscored the Royals and Twins by a 61-26 margin. According to the Elias Sports Bureau, only two other teams in major-league history have produced as many runs (61), hits (91) and home runs (19) during a seven-game winning streak as the White Sox: Oakland in 2000 and Atlanta in 2006. The Sox also posted their first four-game sweep at home vs. Minnesota since July 1-3, 1977.

The White Sox 12-game road winning streak, the longest in baseball since Detroit won 17 straight to open the 1984 season, ends at Kansas City. Their last 10 road wins come vs. teams who are .500 or above at the time of the game. The Sox are the only team in baseball since 1900 to accomplish that feat.

July 14, 2000 ..... Frank Thomas breaks Luke Appling's 50-year-old club record of 1,116 RBI vs. St. Louis, reaching the mark in 1,459 games. Appling set the mark in 2,422 games.

Jan. 31, 2003 ..... U.S. Cellular and the White Sox sign a 23-year, $68-million naming rights agreement as the former Comiskey Park, opened in 1991, becomes U.S. Cellular Field. July 15, 2003 ..... The White Sox and U.S. Cellular Field host the 74th All-Star Game. The AL rallies for a 7-6 victory before a crowd of 47,609. Oct. 22, 2005 ..... U.S. Cellular Field is the site the first World Series game in Chicago since Game 6 of the 1959 Fall Classic when the White Sox lost to the Los Angeles Dodgers, 9-3. The Sox defeat the Houston Astros, 5-3, behind solo home runs by Jermaine Dye and Joe Crede.

Oct. 26, 2005 ..... The White Sox defeat Houston, 1-0, in Game 4 of the World Series at Minute Maid Park, completing a four-game sweep for their first World Championship since 1917. August 12, 2007 ..... Bobby Jenks retires his 41st consecutive batter vs. the Seattle Mariners, tying the major-league record set by San Francisco's Jim Barr in 1972. During the streak, which began on July 17 at Cleveland, Jenks retires 16 batters on groundouts, 13 in the air and 12 on strikeouts.

Sept. 16, 2007 ..... Jim Thome hits his 500th career home run vs. the Los Angeles Angels at U.S. Cellular Field, a game-ending, two-run shot off Dustin Moseley in the ninth inning to give the White Sox a 9-7 win. Thome becomes the 23rd player in major-league history to reach the milestone, the 10th left-handed batter and the first with a game-ending shot.

July 31, 2008 ..... The White Sox acquire Ken Griffey Jr. from the Cincinnati Reds, making them the first team in major-league history to feature a member of the 500 (Jim Thome) and 600-home run clubs. The tiebreaker game is played in front of 40,354 fans, the largest crowd at U.S. Cellular Field since 8/4/03 (43,922).

Game 3: White Sox 5, Red Sox 3

Notes: Chicago completed the ALDS sweep with a 5-3 win at Fenway Park ... Paul Konerko broke a 2-2 tie with a two-run homer off Tim Wakefield in the sixth inning ... Manny Ramirez led off Boston's sixth with a solo homer, his second of the game, and the Red Sox then loaded the bases with no outs off Damaso Marte ... however, Orlando "El Duque" Hernandez (3.0 scoreless IP) worked out of the inherited jam by retiring Jason Varitek and Tony Graffanino on popups before striking out Johnny Damon to end the threat ... the Sox added an insurance run in the ninth inning on a suicide squeeze bunt by Juan Uribe, and rookie Bobby Jenks pitched a 1-2-3 ninth for his second save of the series.

The White Sox eliminated the Los Angeles Angels in five games to advance to their first World Series since 1959. Mark Buehrle, Jon Garland, Freddy Garcia and Jose Contreras threw four consecutive complete-game victories to end the series, the first time that feat has been accomplished since the 1928 New York Yankees.

2005 ALCS: White Sox 4 , Angels 1

Game 1: Angels 3, White Sox 2

Notes: Despite playing in three time zones in three straight nights, the Angels received a solid outing by Paul Byrd and a solo home run by Garret Anderson to take a 1-0 advantage in the ALCS ... Byrd, pitching on three days rest, allowed two runs on six hits in 6.0 IP ... Jose Contreras had his nine-game winning streak come to an end (3 ER/7.0 IP) ... Joe Crede hit his first home run of the playoffs, a solo shot in the third inning ... Neal Cotts retired both batters faced, the only appearance by a Sox reliever in the series ... the White Sox fell to 0-6 in the ALCS at home.

Game 4: White Sox 8, Angels 2

Notes: Freddy Garcia nearly duplicated Mark Buehrle's five-hitter and Jon Garland's four-hitter, making the White Sox the first team to pitch three straight complete games in the postseason since the 1973 New York Mets (Tom Seaver, Jon Matlack and Jerry Koosman) ... Garcia, who was pitching for the first time since clinching the ALDS, gave up two early runs while striking out five ... A.J. Pierzynski homered for the White Sox, his third of the postseason, and Joe Crede added a two-run single in the eighth off Esteban Yan ... Paul Konerko homered in the first inning for the second straight game ... Chicago scored seven runs in the first inning of the series.

Game 5: White Sox 6, Angels 3

Notes: The White Sox advanced to their first World Series since 1959, defeating Los Angeles, 4-1, in the ALCS ... Jose Contreras tossed the fourth consecutive complete game by a Sox hurler, retiring his final 15 batters faced as he bounced back after dropping Game 1 ... the Angels led, 3-2, when Joe Crede hit a leadoff homer in the seventh off Kelvim Escobar ... after Aaron Rowand walked and A.J. Pierzynski reached first on Escobar's error in the eighth, Crede's slow roller up the middle plated Rowand with the go-ahead run ... Paul Konerko, who was named the series MVP, added a RBI double in the ninth and Rowand capped the night with a sacrifice fly ... the Sox won the sixth AL pennant in franchise history.

2005 World Series: Sox 4 , Houston 0

Game 1: White Sox 5, Astros 3

Notes: In the first World Series game held in Chicago since 1959, the White Sox scored four runs in the first four frames on their way to a 5-3 victory vs. Houston ... Jermaine Dye hit an opposite-field home run off Roger Clemens in the first inning ... the Sox added a pair of runs in the second on A.J. Pierzynski's RBI ground out and Juan Uribe's RBI double ... Lance Berkman evened the game with a two-run double in the third, but Joe Crede put the Sox ahead for good with a solo home run off Wandy Rodriguez in the fourth ... Houston put runners on first and third with no outs in the eighth, but Neal Cotts (two strikeouts) and Bobby Jenks (one strikeout) combined to end the Astros threat ... Clemens left after 2.0 IP with a sore left hamstring ... Jose Contreras, the sixth Cuban pitcher to ever start a World Series game, earned the victory despite tying a Fall Classic record by hitting three batters.

2005 World Series: Sox 4 , Astros 0

Game 3: White Sox 7, Astros 5 (14)

Notes: For the second straight game, an unlikely hero came to the forefront for the White Sox as Geoff Blum hit a solo home run in the 14th inning to break a 5-5 tie ... Blum, who had one prior postseason at-bat, entered the longest game in World Series history in the 13th and lined a 2-0 pitch over the right-field wall to give the Sox the lead ... Chicago added an insurance run on Chris Widger's bases-loaded walk ... Houston put runners on the corners in the 14th, but Game 2 starter Mark Buehrle came on to retire Adam Everett on a popout to shortstop Juan Uribe to end the game ... the Astros left the winning run at third base in the ninth and at second in the 10th and 11th ... Jon Garland allowed four runs in the first 4.0 IP but retired 12 of his last 13 batters faced ... Chicago overcame a 4-0 deficit by scoring five runs in the fifth off Roy Oswalt, highlighted by Joe Crede's solo homer and A.J. Pierzynski's two-run double that put the Sox ahead, 5-4 ... Jason Lane's double off Dustin Hermanson in the eighth tied the game at 5-5 ... the 43 players used by both teams was a World Series record, and it marked the first Series game played in Texas.

White Sox Winning Pitchers In The All-Star Game

Left-hander Mark Buehrle became just the sixth pitcher in White Sox history to win an All-Star Game (and first in a starting role) when he earned the decision on July 12, 2005 at Detroit's Comerica Park. Buehrle threw 2.0 scoreless IP, joining Edgar Smith (1941), Early Wynn (1958), Ray Herbert (1962), Jack McDowell (1993) and James Baldwin (2000) as Sox winners at the Midsummer Classic. He also joined Esteban Loaiza (2003), Wynn (1959) and Billy Pierce (1953, 1955-56) as the only Sox pitchers to start an All-Star Game.

Team Of The Century

Two-time MVP Frank Thomas led all voting as the White Sox announced the franchise's 27-player "Team of the Century" on September 30, 2000, commemorating 100 years of White Sox baseball. Thomas, who received 10,822 votes, was followed by Joe Jackson (9,293), Luke Appling (9,234), Carlton Fisk (8,866) and Nellie Fox (8,727). Al Lopez, who went 840-650 (.562) in 11 seasons as Sox manager from 1957-65 and '68-69, was selected as the All-Century Manager.

Ten of the 27 players are Hall of Famers and six played during the Go-Go Sox era of the 1950s. More than 200,000 votes were cast on 18,500 in-stadium and on-line ballots during the month-long voting.

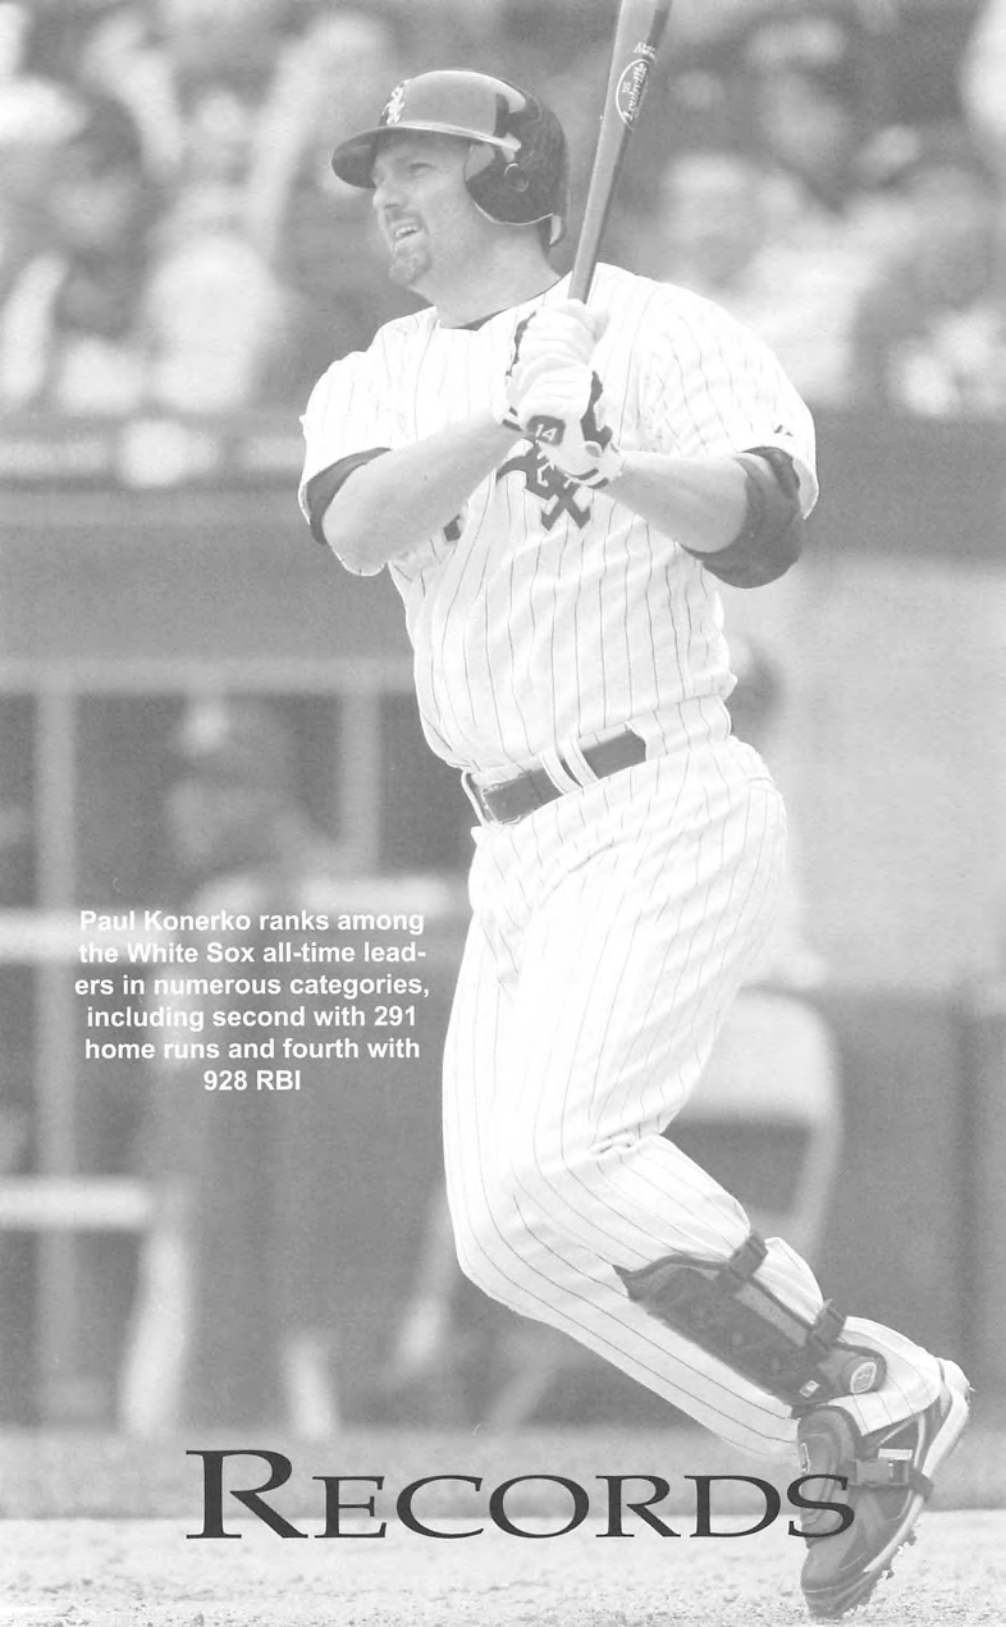
Minnie Minoso

The White Sox celebrated Minnie Minoso Day at U.S. Cellular Field on September 19, 2004, unveiling a life-sized sculpture of Minoso prior to the game vs. Detroit. The sculpture honoring the Cuban great is on the main concourse in left-center field, the first in a series to honor White Sox legends. Minoso, a seven-time American League All-Star, batted .298 with 186 home runs and 1,023 RBI over his 17-year major league career, 12 with the Sox. Minoso's his uniform No. 9 was retired by the Sox in 1983. A tremendous ambassador of the game and fan favorite, he is one of two players (also Nick Altrock) to play in the major leagues over a span of five decades (1940's-1980's).



Paul Konerko ranks among the White Sox all-time leaders in numerous categories, including second with 291 home runs and fourth with 928 RBI

White Sox Turnaround

The White Sox 1990 record of 94-68 (after finishing 69-92 in 1989) was the largest one-year turnabout in club history, eclipsing the 1970-71 revival when the Sox improved from 56-106 to 79-83.

Largest Shutout Margin

The White Sox have recorded two 17-0 shutout victories in their history. The first came on September 19, 1925 (Game 2) at Washington and the second on July 5, 1987 at Cleveland. The most lopsided defeat in franchise history was a 19-0 loss on May 10, 2002 at Anaheim.

White Sox Score In Every Inning

In a 12-8 win vs. Boston on May 11, 1949, the White Sox scored a run in every inning. The Sox scored once in the first, second, fourth, sixth and seventh innings; twice in the third and fifth and three times in the eighth.

The Big Hurt

With a .347 average in 1997, Frank Thomas became just the second player (third time) in White Sox history to win the American League batting title. Luke Appling won batting crowns for the Sox in 1936 (.388) and 1943 (.328). At 6-foot-5 and 275 pounds, Thomas also became the largest player ever to win a batting title. Dave Parker (1978-79) and John Olerud (1993) each were listed at 6-foot-5 when they led the league in average, while Parker and Andres Galarraga (1993) each weighed 235.

2008 White Sox Draft Recap

The White Sox selected infielder Gordon Beckham in the first round (eighth overall) of the 2008 draft. Beckham, from the University of Georgia, debuted with Class A Kannapolis, hitting .310 (18-58) with two doubles, three home runs, eight RBI and 11 runs scored in 14 games. Chicago selected 20 pitchers (16 right-handers and four lefties), seven catchers, 16 infielders and six outfielders. Of their 49 picks, 29 were from the college ranks and 20 were high schoolers. The Sox drafted college players with 25 of their first 27 picks, but took high schoolers with 16 of their last 20. Outfielder Kenny Williams Jr., son of White Sox general manager Ken Williams, was taken in the sixth round out of Wichita State University.

BROADCASTING

White Sox Spanish Radio

The Chicago White Sox will broadcast 39 games in Spanish on Univision Radio's La Tremenda (WRTO 1200 AM) in 2009.

The broadcasts will feature Ozzie Guillen Jr., who enters his fifth season broadcasting White Sox games in Spanish, and Omar Ramos, a fixture on Univision Radio stations in Chicago for the past six years. Guillen and Ramos, who immediately become one of the youngest Spanish broadcasting tandems in Major League Baseball, will share play-by-play and color commentary responsibilities during the season.

Ozzie Guillen Jr., son of White Sox manager Ozzie Guillen, has become one of the more captivating voices among Spanish-language broadcasters in Major League Baseball during his tenure in the Sox booth. His knowledge and understanding of the game, coupled with a distinguishable over-the-air delivery, have Guillen poised for an illustrious career in broadcasting. A native of Chicago, having been raised in the city during his father's long career with the White Sox as a player, Guillen previously has hosted shows, both in English and Spanish, on WSCR 670 AM. He is an alumnus of Columbia College in Chicago.

Omar Ramos has become a very prominent on-air talent in the Chicago Spanish radio community during his six-plus years in the market. Currently the afternoon drive host of one of Univision Radio's top stations (106.7 FM), Ramos broadcast a number of games in Spanish for the White Sox in 2008, and officially was named broadcaster in January of this year. Ramos brings one of the most recognizable voices in Spanish radio in Chicago, along with a passion for the game, to the Sox Spanish radio booth this season. A native of California's central valley, Ramos was born and raised in Tulare, Calif. and graduated from Fresno State University.

Conference & Learning Center

Since its opening in 2001, the Conference & Learning Center at U.S. Cellular Field has been the site of hundreds of conferences and seminars, while also serving as a meeting location for civic and charity functions and as the site for all White Sox press conferences and media events.

The facility, a joint partnership between Illinois Sports Facilities Authority and the White Sox, was designed by Campbell Tiu Campbell, Inc. and built by the joint venture of Walsh/Riteway. Audio/visual consultation and implementation was handled by Swiderski Electronics Inc.

The Conference & Learning Center, which features the latest in communication and presentation technology, offers users full-service catering by Levy Restaurants, a fully-equipped business center and on-site parking. It is available year-round for half- and full-day rentals. In addition to Chicago Public School programs, the center is available for use by local non-profit organizations, businesses and community groups. Non-profit, civic and municipal organizations can use the Conference & Learning Center for reduced or no cost.

Beyond the entertainment provided by baseball's on-the-field activities, the facility allows ISFA and the Chicago White Sox to offer students unique educational opportunities that will allow them to benefit from the experience and knowledge of the organization, its staff and its supporters.

The Conference & Learning Center features a large amphitheater-style auditorium with a seating capacity of 160, a meeting room that seats 60 and two board rooms for groups of 8 to 12. The large auditorium features individual consoles at each seat, providing direct audio and data connections, an advanced overhead document display system and computer signal inputs for projection or plasma display.

The Jim Beam Club provides fans the comfort of padded, extra-wide seats in an open air club level seating area, as well as access to a private lounge and private restrooms. High-definition televisions are placed throughout the club and seating area.

Ticket-holders also get invitations to private on-field events and member parties, early admittance into the ballpark for select games to watch White Sox batting practice from the outfield and former player appearances in the Jim Beam Club lounge.

Gate 5 Renovation Project

Prior to the 2009 season, the Illinois Sports Facilities Authority (ISFA), as part of its capital repair responsibilities, completed a significant improvement project at Gate 5 of U.S. Cellular Field. The improvement makes entering and exiting the ballpark much easier for White Sox fans.

The key elements of the project included: the installation of new escalators within a new, weather-protected enclosure at Gate 5; and installation of elevators at Gate 5, which will provide additional access to the ballpark for fans with disabilities entering from the north parking lots. The new escalators and elevators will make the process of entering and exiting much quicker for fans accessing Gate 5. This, the latest improvement project at U.S. Cellular Field is part of the White Sox and ISFA's continued commitment to provide White Sox fans and the city of Chicago a world-class facility.

Champions Plaza and Championship Moments

"Champions Plaza" and "Championship Moments" monument is a diamond-shaped plaza featuring a prominent bronze and granite monument celebrating the 2005 World Series championship.

The large monument is made of a combination of white bronze and black granite and was designed by the same studio (The Fine Art Studio of Rotblatt-Amrany) that developed the popular sculptures of Minnie Minoso, Carlton Fisk, Luis Aparicio, Nellie Fox, Bill Pierce and Harold Baines, which are located on the outfield concourse at U.S. Cellular Field.

Camelback Ranch-Glendale

Novelty Reigns At Camelback Ranch-Glendale

By Paul Jensen / Special to whitesox.com

Novelty reigns at Camelback Ranch-Glendale (CBR-G), the new spring home of the Chicago White Sox and Los Angeles Dodgers which opened in 2009.

Best described as a campus rather than a complex, a park rather than a facility, the non-traditional look and feel is what fans will notice first, a sun-bathed, 141-acre baseball paradise located approximately 15 miles west of downtown Phoenix.

"The team owners and the City of Glendale wanted to create something distinctive," explains Terry Savarise, White Sox Senior vice president of stadium operations.

The results are eye-popping, an aesthetic home run and a one-of-a-kind spring-training environment.

The unique elements of Camelback Ranch-Glendale include:

- Water Feature – A 1,300-foot lake system with a river serving the dual purpose of irrigation for fields and site landscaping, and aesthetic enhancement of the campus by physically creating a natural barrier between the two teams' practice facilities while offering interconnecting walking trails and a park-like feel. The lake utilizes reclaimed water and is stocked with fish (bass, bluegill, carp, catfish) and turtles.
- Architecture – Mixture of architectural finishes: Natural stone veneers, tri-color faux staining, rusty metal panels, Gabion wall systems, earth-tone (caramel) stadium seat color, and other appointments that blend with the natural desert colors of Arizona. "Fans will find Camelback Ranch-Glendale as reminiscent of a resort as a baseball spring-training complex," offers Greg Corns, Camelback Ranch–Glendale vice president of business operations. "Unlike most spring training facilities, CBR-G is a wide-open campus providing fans the chance to get up close to players as they work out. The open design allows fans to meander throughout the campus and partake in the experience. This is without a doubt the ultimate fan experience."

The welcoming, open-space nature of CBR-G is sure to please the tastes of White Sox and Dodgers fans in particular and baseball purists in general.

"This is a wonderful fan-friendly facility," offers White Sox Chairman Jerry Reinsdorf.

"Landscaping distinguishes this facility from every other," adds Dodgers' Owner and Chairman Frank McCourt. "It's great to see ideas become reality with great care."

Landscaping enhances the campus feel.

*White Sox Spring Training Record

#White Sox trained in Sarasota, Fla. from 1960-97 and Tucson, Ariz. from 1998-2008.

Sox In The Community

The Chicago White Sox recognize the organization's important responsibility to serve Chicagoans and the greater Chicagoland community. Sports teams have a unique opportunity to accomplish great things beyond the ballpark, impact lives and bring happiness and hope to neighbors, fans and friends.

The club's outreach through Chicago White Sox Charities, the organization's successful philanthropic arm, and the team's year-round community relations efforts touch the lives of many of its neighbors in a variety of different ways.

Last year, Chicago White Sox Charities committed $3.2 million to worthy local charities and programs, including $1 million grants to Children's Memorial Hospital for development of the new Ann and Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago and to Easter Seals of Metropolitan Chicago for construction of the new Therapeutic School and Center for Autism Research. Since its inception, Chicago White Sox Charities has donated over $12.2 million dollars to life-changing causes, including four separate donations of $1 million.

Each season, White Sox players and coaches sign tens of thousands of autographs for fans, make over 350 community appearances, donate tickets worth well over $100,000 and provide in-kind donations to over 3,000 charity organizations around the Chicago metropolitan area, helping worthy programs raise much-needed funds.

White Sox Ethnic Initiative

Over the past several seasons, the White Sox have been one of the most active and aggressive teams in Major League Baseball in the areas of community outreach and marketing in both the Latino and African-American communities.

In 2009, the team will broadcast 39 games in Spanish on its flagship Spanish-language radio station La Tremenda (WRTO-AM) of the Univision Radio network. The broadcasts will feature one of the youngest Spanish broadcast duos in Major League Baseball in Ozzie Guillen Jr. and Omar Ramos. Guillen, son of White Sox manager Ozzie Guillen and entering his fifth season broadcasting for the team, and Ramos, one of Univision Radio's highest profile talents in Chicago, entering his first in the booth, will split play-by-play and color analyst duties in 2009.

The 2009 season also marks the third installment of Orgullo Sox (Sox Pride), the White Sox signature semi-monthly Spanish-language television show. The show, broadcast every other week during the season on Telemundo Chicago, features hosts Johana Londono and Omar Ramos providing recaps of past games, special segments on White Sox fans and U.S. Cellular Field, along with exclusive interviews with players.

Every season, the White Sox also host events such as: Dia del Deporte (Sports Day), Latino College Night, Noche del Trabajador (Hispanic Business Night) and Noche de Herencia Hispana (Hispanic Heritage Night). The calendar of events provides the Chicagoland Latino community an opportunity to participate in family-focused programming, interact with White Sox team members and visit U.S. Cellular Field for games.

Young fans, wearing "Los Medias Blancas" (Spanish: White Sox), participate in a pre-game parade on Hispanic Heritage Night, an annual event at U.S. Cellular Field.

In 2009, the White Sox will host the second annual Double Duty Classic at U.S. Celluar Field. Last season marked the 75th anniversary of the first East-West All-Star game, the historic Negro Leagues All-Star game played at Old Comiskey Park. In 2008, the White Sox brought together many of the best inner-city high school baseball players from across the country to play in the Double Duty Classic, named after Negro League legend Ted "Double Duty" Radcliffe. The players suited up in uniforms similar to those of the original Negro Leagues and played a game at U.S. Cellular Field.

Prior to the game, the young players attended a forum where they learned about the original East-West game from Negro Leagues historians and Sharon Robinson, daughter of Jackie Robinson, and they had the opportunity to ask questions and interact with White Sox outfielder Jermaine Dye, first base coach Harold Baines and general manager Ken Williams.

The White Sox will continue the tradition of hosting the Double Duty Classic on July 10 this season in the team's continued effort to grow the game and develop inner-city baseball talent.

The White Sox also host and participate in a number of events in support of the African-American community, including: the Bud Billiken Parade and Family Picnic, and African-American Greek Night at the Ballpark.

Hall of Famer Frank Robinson, White Sox greats Minnie Minoso and Harold Baines, Sox outfielder Jermaine Dye and young members of the White Sox Amateur City Elite and Inner City Youth Baseball programs were introduced on the field prior to the start of first Double Duty Classic on July 7, 2008.

Baseball Terminology

Disabled Lists

There are two disabled lists — the 15-day DL and the 60-day DL. Players on the 60-day DL do not count against a club's 40-man roster limit. Players may be placed on either disabled list starting with the day following the last day on which they appeared in a game and may be placed on the DL retroactively, up to a maximum of 10 days. While on the DL, players may be assigned to a minor league club for the purposes of an injury rehabilitation assignment for a maximum of 20 days (30 days for pitchers).

Options

When a player is on a club's 40-man roster and assigned to the minor leagues (except for while on an injury rehabilitation assignment), a player is on "optional assignment." In most cases, a player has three options, which means the player can be on optional assignment during three different seasons (under certain limited circumstances, some players may be eligible for a fourth option). Regardless of how many times a player is optioned and recalled during a single season, the player is only charged with one option during that season — that is, there is no limit on how many times a player may be optioned during a given option year. Once all of a player's options have been used, the player must clear irrevocable waivers before being sent to the minors at any subsequent point in their career.

Waivers

Fundamentally, waivers are permission from the other major league clubs for a requesting club to make a specific roster move. The type of waiver requested by a club depends upon the type of move the club wishes to undertake.

Major League Waivers (Revocable): Required any time a club wishes to option a Player for whom at least three years has passed since that player made his major league debut. Major league waivers are "revocable", which means if another club enters a claim on a Player, the requesting club may either (i) revoke the request and not make the contemplated roster move or (ii) allow the claiming club to receive the player in exchange for the waiver claim fee (either $20,000 or $25,000 depending upon the Player).

Trade Waivers (Revocable): Required any time (i) a club wishes to assign a Player to another major league club following the July 31st non-waiver trade deadline and before the end of the regular season. Trade waivers are "revocable" which means if another club enters a claim on a Player, the requesting club may either (i) revoke the request and not make the contemplated roster move or (ii) allow the claiming club to receive the player in exchange for the waiver claim fee (either $20,000 or $25,000 depending upon the Player).

Unconditional Release Waivers (Irrevocable): Required any time a club wishes to release a player from his contract. The affected player is removed from the 40-man roster at the time of the request and may be claimed by any club willing to assume the player's contract for a $1.00 waiver claim fee. Unconditional release waivers are "irrevocable" which means should another club claim the player, the club who requested the waivers loses the player to the claiming club. If the player is unclaimed, the player becomes a free agent eligible to sign with any other club and the requesting club owes the player termination pay as mandated by the terms of the player's contract and/or the collective bargaining agreement.

Outright Waivers (Irrevocable): Required any time a club wishes to (i) assign a player to the minors who is out of options or (ii) remove a player from their 40-man roster. These waivers are "irrevocable" which means should another club claim the player, the club who requested the waiver looses the player to the claiming club. If the player is unclaimed, the requesting club may "outright" the affected player to the minors which removes the player from the club's 40-man roster and assigns the player's contract to a minor league affiliate. Under certain limited circumstances, a player who has been outrighted may declare free agency in lieu of accepting assignment to the minor league club.

Designated For Assignment

When the active roster limit and/or the 40-man roster limit of a particular club have been reached, and the club wishes to add an additional player to either the active or the 40-man roster, the club may designate for assignment a player currently on the 40-man roster. The club then has 10 days to either trade, outright to the minors or release the designated player. Once designated, the player no longer counts against the club's active or 40-man roster limits.

Recalled vs. Contract Purchased From Minor Leagues

If a player is on the 40-man roster, he is recalled. If not, then his contract is purchased from the minor-league team. A player must be added to the 40-man roster when his contract is purchased.

Rule 5 Draft

A player not on the major-league 40-man roster is eligible for the Rule 5 Draft if:

1. The player was 18 or younger when he first signed a pro contract and this is the fifth Rule 5 Draft since he signed.
2. He was 19 or older when he first signed a pro contract and this is the fourth Rule 5 Draft since he signed.

How To Figure

Batting Average

Divide the number of at-bats into the number of hits (H/AB).

Earned Run Average

Multiply the number of earned runs by nine; take the number and divide it by the number of innings pitched (ERx9/IP)

Slugging Percentage

Divide the total bases of all safe hits by the total times at-bat. At-bats do not include walks, sacrifices, hit by pitcher or times awarded first base because of interference or obstruction (TB/AB).

On-Base Percentage

Add the total of hits, walks and hit by pitches and divide by the total of at-bats, walks, hit by pitches and sacrifice flies (H+BB+HBP/AB+BB+HBP+SF).

Fielding Percentage

Divide the total number of putouts and assists by total chances (putouts, assists and errors; PO+A/PO+A+E).

Magic Number

Determine the number of games yet to be played, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

Items Of Interest

Roster Limits

A team may have 40 players on its roster until Opening Day, when the number of active players must be reduced to 24 or 25 (not including disabled players) until September 1, at which time the roster again increases to the maximum of 40.

Consecutive Game Hitting Streak

A consecutive game hitting streak shall not end if all the player's plate appearances (one or more) result in a base on balls, hit by pitch, defensive interference of a sacrifice bunt. The streak shall end if the player has a sacrifice fly and no hit.

Major League Service

A full year of service in the major leagues constitutes 172 days.

Day/Night Game

Any game scheduled to start after 5:00 p.m. will be considered a night game. If a game is scheduled to start at or before 5:00 p.m. and is delayed by rain or for any other reason it shall still be considered a day game. However, both games of a twi-night doubleheader shall be considered night games. When afternoon and night games are played on the same day and separate admissions are charged, they will be counted as one day and one night game and will not be considered as a doubleheader.

Rookie Qualifications

A player shall be considered a rookie, if:

1. He has less than 130 at-bats or 50.0 innings pitched in the major leagues during a previous season or seasons, and
2. He has not accumulated more than 45 days on a major league roster during the 25-player limit (excluding time in the military or on the disabled list).

Save Rule

A pitcher shall be credited with a save when he meets the following three conditions:

1. He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club, and
2. He is not winning pitcher, and
3. He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
   a. he enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning, or
   b. he enters the game with the potential tying run either on base, at bat or on deck, or
   c. he pitches effectively for at least three innings

Batting Championship Qualifications

To qualify a player must have a minimum of 502 plate appearances (3.1 for each of the 162 scheduled games). If however, there is any player with fewer than the required number of plate appearances whose average would be the highest if he were charged with the required number of official at-bats, then the player shall be awarded the batting championship.

ERA Championship Qualifications

To qualify a pitcher must have at least 162.0 innings pitched and have the lowest ERA.

Medical Glossary

AC Joint — Acromioclavicular joint; joint of the shoulder where acromion process of the scapula and the distal end of the clavicle meet; most shoulder separations occur at this point.

Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL) — A primary stabilizing ligament within the center of the knee joint that prevents hyperextension and excessive rotation of the joint. A complete tear of the ACL necessitating reconstruction could require up to 12 months of rehabilitation.

Anti-Inflammatory — Any agent which prevents inflammation, such as aspirin or ibuprofen.

Arthrogram — X-ray technique for joints using air and/or dye injected into the affected area; useful in diagnosing meniscus tears of the knee and rotator cuff tears of the shoulder.

Arthroscopy — A surgical examination of the internal structures of a joint by means of viewing through an arthroscope. An arthroscopic procedure can be used to remove or repair damaged tissue or as a diagnostic procedure in order to inspect the extent of any damage or confirm a diagnosis.

Bone Scan — An imaging procedure in which a radioactive-labeled substance is injected into the body to determine the status of a bone injury. If the radioactive substance is taken up by the bone at the injury site, the injury will show as a "hot spot" on the scan image. The bone scan is particularly useful in the diagnosis of stress fractures.

Cartilage — Smooth, slippery substance preventing two ends of bones from rubbing together.

CAT Scan — Use of a computer to produce a cross-sectional view of the anatomical part being investigated from x-ray data.

Concussion — Jarring injury of the brain resulting in dysfunction. It can be graded as mild, moderate or severe depending on loss of consciousness, amnesia and loss of equilibrium.

Hyperextension — Extreme extension of a limb or body part.

Impingement Syndrome — Pinching together of the supraspinatus muscle and other soft tissue in the shoulder. The most common (throwing) arm injury, which represents many pathologies and generall involves supraspinatus overuse.

Labrum (Labrum Glenoidule) — The cartilage of the glenoid cavity in the shoulder. A lip-edge or lip-like structure.

BASEBALL INFORMATION

Ligament — Band of fibrous tissue that connects bone to bone, or bone to cartilage and supports and strengthens joints.

Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) — Imaging procedure in which a radio frequency pulse causes certain electrical elements of the injured tissue to react to this pulse and through this process a computer display and permanent film establish a visual image. MRI does not require radiation and is very useful in the diagnosis of soft tissue, disc, and meniscus injuries.

Medial Collateral Ligament (MCL) — Ligament of knee along the medial aspect that connects the femur to the joint.

Meniscus — Crescent shaped cartilage, usually pertaining to the knee joint; also known as "cartilage." There are two menisci in the knee, medial and lateral. These work to absorb weight within the knee and provide stability.

Posterior Cruciate Ligament (PCL) — A primary stabilizing ligament of the knee that provides significant stability and prevents displacement of the tibia backward within the knee joint. A complete tear of this ligament necessitating reconstruction could require up to 12 months of rehabilitation.

Rotator Cuff — Comprised of four muscles in the shoulder area that can be irritated by overuse. The muscles are the supraspinatus (most commonly injured), infraspinatus, teres minor and subscapularis.

Rotator Cuff Impingement Syndrome — A microtrauma or overuse injury caused by stress. The four stages are: 1) tendenitis with temporary thickening of the bursa and rotator cuff 2) fiber dissociation in the tendon with permanent thickening of the bursa and scar formation 3) a partial rotator cuff tear of less than 1 cm and 4) a complete tear of 1 cm or more.

Sprain — Injury resulting from the stretch or twist of the joint and causes various degrees of stretch or tear of a ligament or other soft tissue at the joint.

Strain — Injury resulting from a pull or torsion to the muscle or tendon that causes various degrees of stretch or tear to the muscle or tendon tissue.

Stress Fracture — A hairline-type break in a bone caused by overuse.

Tendon — Tissue that connects muscle to bone.

Ulnar Nerve — Nerve in the elbow commonly irritated from excessive throwing.

Ultrasound — An electrical modality that transmits a sound wave through an applicator into the skin to the soft tissue in order to heat the local area for relaxing the injured tissue and/or disperse edema.

MLB/MLBPA Drug Policy

Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig and Players Association Executive Director Donald M. Fehr reached an agreement in principal on a new policy on performance-enhancing substances, prior to the 2006 season.

The agreement increases penalties applicable to players who test positive for steroids. First-time offenders will be suspended for 50 games. Second-time offenders will be suspended for 100 games. Third-time offenders will be banned for life. Players banned for life will have the opportunity to seek reinstatement after a minimum suspension of two years, with potential arbitral review of the decision on reinstatement.

The agreement also will provide for random amphetamine testing in Major League Baseball. Players who test positive for amphetamines for the first time will be subject to mandatory evaluation and follow-up testing. Subsequent positive tests for amphetamines will carry suspensions of 25 games, 80 games and up to a lifetime ban.

Commencing in 2007, Major League Baseball also increased the frequency of testing. Under this policy, every player will be tested at least twice during the season. The program of year-round random testing will also be expanded. All players will remain subject to additional random tests (beyond the mandatory two tests) no matter how many times they have been tested.

Major League Baseball and the Players Association also agreed that the scheduling of tests, the collection of samples, the implementation of the parties' agreement with the World Anti-Doping Agency Certified Laboratory and the reporting of positive tests results to the parties has been turned over to a new Independent Program Administrator, unaffiliated with either Major League Baseball or the Players Association.

Media Services

The Chicago White Sox Media Relations staff welcome you to another exciting season of White Sox baseball at U.S. Cellular Field. Following are media guidelines for the 2009 season. Please feel free to contact any member of the Media Relations Department with requests, questions or concerns at any point. We look forward to working with you throughout the 2009 season.

Credentials: Proper credentials must be displayed at all times. Credentials will be issued only to legitimate newsgathering agencies that have contacted the Media Relations department at least 24 hours in advance. Media credentials are to be picked up at the Gate 4 reception desk starting 4 1/2 hours prior to game time. Earlier credential pick up should be arranged in advance with the media relations office.

Please note: Transferal of working press credentials or autograph requests by working media will result in termination of privileges for the individuals involved.

Full-Season Credentials: Full-season credentials for all White Sox games at U.S. Cellular Field are available to all accredited daily newspaper, area radio and television reporters who cover the Sox on a regular basis. All requests should be submitted via credentials.mlb.com. For further information, contact Ray Garcia at 312-674-5300.

All full-season credentials require a photo. When approved, media may stop by U.S. Cellular Field to have photo taken. Full-season credentials will not be issued without photo I.D.

Daily Credentials: All other media outlets will be credentialed on a per-game basis. A letter from an editor, sports director or assignment editor on letterhead is required at least 24 hours in advance. All requests should be submitted via credentials.mlb.com.

Please note: Media may be asked to show a photo ID prior to entering the park and will not be granted access to the ballpark until four hours prior to first pitch.

Broadcast Booths: Television and radio booths are located on the 300 level and may be accessed by entering Gate 4. There are seven broadcast booths: Booth 1 (Reserved), Booth 2 (Home TV), Booth 3 (Visiting TV), Booth 4 (Reserved), Booth 5 (Home Radio), Booth 6 (Visiting Radio), Booth 7 (Reserved).
